

The Bulletin of the Polytechnic Institute of Iași, Socio-Humanistic Sciences Section is a quarterly journal published by “Gheorghe Asachi” University of Iași, Romania. It reflects the preoccupations of Romanian and foreign academics in the following fields: language and literature (applied linguistics, literary studies, theatrical and cinematic discourse, foreign language learning/teaching, translation studies); social sciences (education, psychology, philosophy, communication studies).

The level of paper review is guaranteed by the existence of an international Editorial Board, which brings together specialists from Romania and abroad, and by the special attention given to the revision process of the papers proposed for publication.

The journal is covered in CEEOL database and is issued both in printed and electronic format by the publishing house of “Gheorghe Asachi” University.
